MESSAGE FROM PRINCIPAL'S DESK...

The Mirror of the Heart: A Reflection of Our True Self

As we gaze into a mirror, we see a reflection of our physical appearance. But have you ever stopped to think that a mirror can also symbolize the inner workings of our heart? Just as a mirror reflects our outer self, our heart reflects our true nature - our thoughts, emotions, and intentions.

The Power of Self-Reflection

When we look into a mirror, we can ask ourselves questions like: What are my strengths and weaknesses? What are my goals and aspirations? What kind of person do I want to be? By reflecting on these questions, we can gain a better understanding of ourselves and make positive changes in our lives.

The Heart's Reflection

Our heart is a symbol of our emotions, values, and character. It reflects our kindness, compassion, and empathy towards others. When we act with kindness, empathy, and compassion, our heart reflects positivity. On the other hand, when we harbour negative emotions like anger, jealousy, or hatred, our heart reflects darkness.

Cultivating a Positive Heart

So, how can we cultivate a positive heart? Here are a few suggestions:

- Practice kindness and empathy towards others
- Focus on the good in people and situations
- Let go of negative emotions and forgive others
- Cultivate gratitude and appreciation for life's blessings

The Mirror of Life

Life itself can be seen as a mirror, reflecting back to us the energy and intentions we put out into the world. When we spread love, kindness, and positivity, we attract similar energies into our lives. On the other hand, when we spread negativity, anger, or hatred, we attract more of the same.

The mirror is indeed a reflection of our face, but it can also symbolize the face of our heart. By looking into the mirror of our heart, we can discover our true nature and make conscious choices to cultivate positivity, kindness, and compassion. Let us strive to reflect the beauty of our heart, just as a mirror reflects our physical appearance.

Thank you,
Mrs Rincy Jose
Principal

KINDERGARTEN REOPENING DAY

The much-awaited reopening of the 2025-2026 academic year took place on June 2, 2025. It was a joyful and emotional morning, especially for our new students stepping into school life for the first time.

From 9:30 A.M., little ones in crisp uniforms arrived with their parents some excited and confident, others a bit shy or teary-eyed. Teachers and support staff greeted each child with warm smiles, ensuring everyone felt safe and welcome.

The school entrance was beautifully decorated with balloons and colourful cartoon cutouts. Teachers gently guided children to their classrooms, helping them settle in with toys, rhymes, and stories designed to ease their fears and build comfort in the new environment.

Throughout the day, teachers made sure every child felt included, encouraging participation and creating a nurturing atmosphere. After a cheerful lunch at 11:50 A.M., children enjoyed fun activities like colouring and watching rhymes. By afternoon snack time at 3:00 P.M., they were excited to share their day with their parents.

Dismissal was handled with utmost care students traveling by van were safely escorted to their vehicles, while those waiting for parents were handed over securely at the gate.

It was a successful reopening day filled with laughter, tiny tears and the beginning of many learning adventures. Our heartfelt thanks to our staff and parents for making it such a smooth start.

A Tribute to Our Everyday Heroes
